ADVERTISEMENT.

In offering to the citizens of the State our Register for 1859–60, we think it will be found as correct as the nature of the undertaking will admit. Great pains have been taken to render the work correct and acceptable to the public; but, notwithstanding the greatest pains should be taken for correctness, and success attends it for to-day, to-morrow mav bring its many changes, and consequently render the work unavoidably incorrect.

We have omitted several articles which we had prepared, to give room for statistics, the nature and importance of which, to be inserted together in one Register, will be apparent to every one; and we hope and trust this will be received as a sufficient apology for the omission of articles usually inserted.

☞ Corrections in the Register should be given on or before the 20th of August, for the first one hundred pages, and the remainder by the 10th of September.

Concord, October, 1859.

Entered according to an act of Congress, in the year 1859,

BY G. PARKER LYON,

In the Clerk's Office of the District Court of New-Hampshire.

ECLIPSES IN 1860.

1st.	2d.	3d.	4th.
☉ Jan. 22d.	☽ Feb. 6th.	☉ July 18th.	☽ August 1st.

There will be four Eclipses this year—two of the Sun and two of the Moon. The times and phases will be as follows:

I. The first will be of the Sun, January the 22d, on Sunday, at 21 minutes past 7 o'clock in the evening, consequently will not be visible to any part of the United States, because the sun will be below the horizon. But if it was not, the Eclipse would not be visible to us, because the moon's latitude will be too far south.

II. The second will be of the Moon, February the 6th day, on Monday evening, visible, and by calculation as follows:

Beginning,..... 8h. 1m. 30s.
Middle,..... 9h. 28m. 30s.
Ecliptic opposition,..... 9h. 33m. 51s.
End of the Eclipse,.....10h. 50m. 00s.
Duration,.....2h. 49m. 30s.

Apparent time Sun slow of the clock, 14m. 19s.

Digits eclipsed 9° 32′ nearly, on the Moon's north limb, and in the south side of the Earth's shadow.

III. The third will be of the Sun, July, the 18th day, on Wednesday morning, visible, and by calculation as follows:

Beginning,.....7h. 17m.
Middle,.....8h. 20m.
Duration,.....2h. 29m.

Apparent time Sun slow of the clock, 5m. 54s.

IV. The fourth and last will be of the Moon, on Wednesday, the first day of August, at 46 minutes past noon; invisible.

STATISTICS.

[June 21, 1788, at a convention of Delegates of New-Hampshire, held at Concord, the vote was taken, as one of the confederate States, on the acceptance of the Constitution of the United States, and the vote was carried—57 in favor of acceptance, and 47 against.]

In the following pages and tables may be found:

1. Some abstracts of the laws enacted, directing the manner of the choice of Electors: state of the votes for Electors, as recorded, and the votes of the Electors cast for President and Vice-President, from 1788 to 1856 inclusive, and the name of the President and Vice-President, as finally declared elected.
2. Representatives to Congress, time of choice, and state of the vote, as recorded, from 1788 to 1859 inclusive.
3. State of the vote, as recorded, for the choice of a Chief Magistrate annually, beginning with March, 1784, and ending March, 1859.

From an act passed November 12, 1788, on directing the choice of Electors for the choice of the first President and Vice-President of the United States:

And be it further enacted, by the authority aforesaid, That the inhabitants of the several towns and parishes, plantations and places incorporated, qualified as aforesaid, shall, on the third Monday of December next, in town-meeting assembled, give in their votes for five persons, inhabitants of this State, who shall not be continental Senators, Representatives, or persons holding offices of profit or trust under the United States, to be the Electors for this State, which votes shall be taken, recorded, sealed and transmitted to the Secretary's office, at the same time and in like manner as votes for Representatives to the Congress of the United States, as is by this act required; and the secretary shall lay such votes before the General Court, to be counted and examined in the same manner as votes for the Representatives; and the persons having a majority of votes shall, on the first Wednesday of January next, be duly appointed and declared elected.

And in case it shall so happen that the whole, or any part of the number of Electors are not chosen by the people, then the General Court shall take a number of names out of the candidates who have the highest number of votes, equal to double the number of Electors wanting, from which the Senate and House shall, in such way and manner as may be by them agreed on, proceed to appoint the Electors wanting, who shall be declared the Electors of this State, for the President and Vice-President of the United States, and notified to attend their duty as such.

And be it further enacted, by the authority aforesaid, That if a vacancy shall happen in either of said cases, they shall be filled up in manner aforesaid.—Edition of Laws, 1789, page 169.

January 6, 1789, a joint committee, appointed from both Houses to count the votes for Electors, reported:

"The whole number of votes, 20,142, and it appears there is no one chosen, and the ten highest numbers are:

Gen. Bellows,	1,759	Hon. Jno. Pickering,	1,364
E. Thompson,	1,063	Gen. Sullivan,	872
John Parker, Esq.,	851	Judge Dudley,	718
Col. Wentworth,	667	Gen. Folsome,	589
Col. Smith,	543	Gen. Cilley,	528

"Signed: ROBERT WALLACE, for the Committee."

January 7, the House proposed to choose the Electors in separate branches. Non-concurred by the Senate.

After several motions were made and lost by each House, one among the number was of the House:

"Voted, That the names of ten persons who have the highest number of votes as Electors for a President of the United States be put into a box, and that the secretary and clerk of the House, under the inspection of two members of each branch, draw out the names of five persons, who shall be considered as electors of this State." Non-concurred by the Senate.

Finally, after a conference was held by a joint committee, the Senate made the following elections for Electors, and asked the concurrence of the House, which was given by a majority of 21 votes:

Hon. Benjamin Bellows,	John Sullivan, Esq.,
John Pickering, Esq.,	John Parker, Esq.
Ebenezer Thompson, Esq.,

And a vote passed, "That the Electors within this State, for a President and Vice-President of the United States, meet at Exeter, on the day appointed by the resolve of Congress for that purpose."

The resolve of Congress was, That the first Wednesday in January next be the day for appointing Electors in the several States, which, before the said day, shall have ratified the said Constitution; that the first Wednesday of February next be the day for the Electors to assemble in their respective States, and vote for a President; and that the first Wednesday of March next be the time, and the present seat of Congress (New-York) the place, for commencing the proceedings under the said Constitution.

February 5, 1789, the first Wednesday in the month, the Electors met at Exeter, and cast their votes for President and Vice-President of the United States, for the first term under the Constitution of the United States:

George Washington, of Virginia, had 5 votes for President.
John Adams, of Massachusetts, had 5 votes for President.

George Washington was subsequently declared elected President, and John Adams Vice-President.

The 4th of March, 1789, was the day set apart to commence operations, under the Constitution, ratified by eleven States, and which had chosen Senators and Representatives to Congress; but a quorum in either House not appearing, the House of Representatives adjourned from day to day until Wednesday, the first day of April, when a majority appeared a quorum to do business, they elected a Speaker and Clerk, and proceeded to business; the Senate, in like manner, adjourned from day to day, until Monday, the 6th day of April, when, a quorum appearing, "the Senate proceeded, by ballot, to the choice of a President, for the sole purpose of opening and counting the votes for President of the United States."

On the 6th of April, 1789, the votes were counted, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, and it appeared that George Washington was unanimously elected President, and John Adams was duly elected Vice-President of the United States, agreeably to the Constitution.

On Tuesday, April 30, 1789, the President was introduced into the Senate Chamber, by a committee appointed for the purpose, and was attended to the gallery, in front of the Senate Chamber, by the Vice-President and Senators, the Speaker and Representatives, and other public characters present.

The oath, required by the Constitution, was then administered to George Washington, by the Chancellor of the State of New-York, and after which he proclaimed, "Long live George Washington, President of the United States."

November 1, 1792, at a meeting of the President and Council, the votes for Electors were examined and reported:

The whole number of votes,.....25,564
Necessary to a choice,.....2,131

No one had the requisite number of votes, consequently no election.

The twelve persons who had the highest number of votes were:

Josiah Bartlett,	Joseph Cilley,
John T. Gilman,	Timothy Farrar,
Benjamin Bellows,	Timothy Walker,
Jonathan Freeman,	Ebenezer Smith,
John Pickering,	Daniel Rindge,
Ebenezer Thompson,	Thomas Cogswell, Esqrs.,

and out of which, six Electors to be chosen.

November 23, 1792, at a meeting of the President and Council, the votes were examined for Electors, and reported the following persons elected:

Josiah Bartlett,	John Pickering,
John Taylor Gilman,	Benjamin Bellows,
Jonathan Freeman,	Ebenezer Thompson, Esqrs.

No statement of the votes recorded.

The Electors met at Exeter on the first Wednesday in December, 1792, and cast their votes for the second term.

George Washington, of Virginia, had 6 votes for President.
John Adams, of Massachusetts, had 6 votes for President.

George Washington was subsequently declared elected President, and John Adams Vice-President.

June 15, 1796, an act was passed changing the mode of the election of Electors, so that, in case there being no election by the people, in part or all, then the choice shall be made in convention of the House and Senate, by joint ballot.

In case there are two or more having an equal number of votes, then the names of such are put into a box, and the secretary draws from the box, in the presence of the Senate and House, in convention, the requisite number.

November 25, 1796, the following statement, in convention of both Houses, of the votes for the choice of Electors:

The whole number of votes,.....4,374
Necessary to a choice,.....2,188

Oliver Peabody, Esq., had..3,719	Benja. Bellows, Esq., had..3,176
His Excellency, John T. Gilman, had.....3,408	Timothy Farrar, Esq., had..3,027
	Eben'r Thompson, Esq., had.2,867

No other person having a majority, the two candidates for the sixth Elector are Bezaleel Woodward, Esq., who received 2,077 votes, and Timothy Walker, Esq., 836.

By joint ballot, in convention, Timothy Walker, Esq., was elected.

On the first Wednesday of December, 1796, the Electors cast their votes for the third term.

John Adams, of Massachusetts, had 6 votes for President.
Oliver Ellsworth, of Connecticut, had 6 votes for President.

John Adams was subsequently declared elected President, and Thomas Jefferson, of Virginia, Vice-President.

June 14, 1800, an act was approved, directing a new mode for choosing Electors:

* * * "That the said Court shall, on the fourth Wednesday of November next, choose, by joint ballot of both branches of the Legislature, in convention, six persons, constitutionally qualified, as Electors, for this State, of President and Vice-President of the United States; and in case the Electors should not be chosen by a majority of votes, the two persons balloted for, having the highest number of votes, shall be candidates, out of whom one shall be elected by ballot as aforesaid, and in this mode the appointment of the six Electors shall be completed."

And the act further provides, that the Electors shall meet at Concord, on the first Wednesday in December, 1800, and there cast their votes for President and Vice-President of the United States, according to law.

November 26, 1800, both Houses met in Convention, and chose for Electors:

Oliver Peabody,	Timothy Farrar,
John Prentice,	Benjamin Bellows,
Ebenezer Thompson,	Arthur Livermore.

On the first Wednesday of December, 1800, the Electors cast their votes, at Concord, for the fourth term.

John Adams, of Massachusetts, had 6 votes for President.
C. C. Pinckney, of South-Carolina, had 6 votes for President.

No choice by the people. In the House Thomas Jefferson was elected on the 36th ballot. Aaron Burr was chosen Vice-President.

June 21, 1804, an act was passed giving the choice of Electors again to the people at large.

An extract below is given to show the manner of proceeding in case a part or all of the Electors are not elected by the people:

"But in case more than seven persons shall have a majority of votes, then those seven persons who have the highest number of votes shall be declared Electors; but if there shall not be any or the whole number having such majority, the Senate and House of Representatives, in convention aforesaid, shall cause to be made out a list of the persons not chosen, having the highest number of votes, equal to double the number of Electors wanted; and if, in making out such list, it shall happen that two or more persons voted for have an equal number of votes, which number is also high enough to entitle the candidate to a place in said list, the names of such persons shall be put into a box, and the secretary, not being one of the candidates, shall, in presence of said convention, draw the number wanted to complete said list, from which list said convention shall elect by ballot the number of Electors wanted, and the person or persons, having a majority of said votes, shall be appointed and declared Electors."

November 24, 1804, both Houses met in convention and reported:

The whole number of votes,.....17,452
Necessary to a choice,..... 8,727

John Goddard had	9,084	Timothy Walker had	9,048
Levi Bartlett had	9,088	George Aldrich had	8,995
Jonathan Steele had	9,033	William Tarlton had	9,072
Robert Alcock had	9,075

On the first Wednesday in December, 1804, the Electors cast their votes for the fifth term.

Thomas Jefferson, of Virginia, had 7 votes for President.
George Clinton, of New-York, had 7 votes for Vice-President.

—and were subsequently declared elected.

The Constitution of the United States is so altered that the President and Vice-President are voted for by the Electors as two distinct officers, and are required to be named as such in their votes.

November 29, 1808, both Houses met in convention and reported :

The whole number of votes,.....26,721
Necessary to a choice,.....13,361

Jeremiah Smith had	14,006	Robert Wallace had	13,980
Oliver Peabody had	13,998	Benjamin West had	13,983
Timothy Farrar had	13,987	Jonathan Franklin had	13,972
Samuel Hale had	13,929

On the first Wednesday of December, 1808, the Electors cast their votes for the sixth term.

C. C. Pinckney, of South-Carolina, had 7 votes for President.
Rufus King, of New-York, had 7 votes for Vice-President.

And subsequently James Madison, of Virginia, was declared elected President, and George Clinton, of New-York, Vice-President.

November 25, 1812, both Houses met in convention and reported :

The whole number of votes,.....34,800
Necessary to a choice,.....17,401

John Goddard had	20,386	Timothy Farrar had	18,958
Oliver Peabody had	18,844	Benjamin West had	18,942
Samuel Hale had	18,908	Caleb Ellis had	18,953
Nathan Taylor had	18,839	Jonathan Franklin had	18,957

Sixty-five votes were cast in Newcastle, by drafted militia, for John Langdon, Timothy Walker, Richard Dame, Benjamin Pierce, J. K. Smith, Amasa Allen, Nahum Parker, Abel Merrill; also four Electoral votes cast for a ticket slightly differing from the last named above. Stewartstown detached troops voted, but they reported the votes were illegally cast.

On the first Wednesday of December, 1812, the Electors cast their votes for the seventh term.

CHANGE OF CIVIL OFFICERS.

Silas Hardy, January 7, 1859, was appointed Register of Probate for Cheshire, to take effect March 15, vice Calvin May, Jr., resigned. Levi W. Barton was appointed May 14, 1859, Solicitor for Sullivan, vice George Ticknor resigned. William E. Chandler was appointed Reporter for the State of New-Hampshire, June 23, 1859, vice George G. Fogg, resigned.

The Court of Common Pleas was abolished at the June session, 1859, and the business of said court was transferred to the Supreme Judicial Court. Five Judges belonged to this court, which number was increased to six by the appointment, July 5, of Jonathan E. Sargent, a Judge in the late Court of Common Pleas.

For further changes in civil officers, see Appendix to this Register.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

In making up the annual list of lawyers for each town or city, it is the intention of the Compiler to insert the names, where there is more than one in a town or city, in the order in which each commenced business. An attorney, changing his place of business, or a young man, after having been admitted to the practice of law, and located for business, would confer a favor by sending his card to the Compiler.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF,

His Excellency ICHABOD GOODWIN, Portsmouth.

Aids-de-Camp, (with the rank of Colonel)—Clement March, Portsmouth; Albert L. Jones, Portsmouth; Bradbury P. Cilley, Manchester; Joseph W. Robinson, Concord; Abiel Rolfe, Concord, (Fisherville;) Henry W. Rowell, Littleton.

Adjutant and Quarter-Master General—JOSEPH C. ABBOTT, Manchester, (having the rank of Brigadier General.)

Commissary General—Thomas J. Whittem, Exeter; (chosen annually by the Legislature.)

The State is divided into three divisions and six brigades.

According to the returns made to the Adjutant General, in 1859, the whole number of enrolled militia in the State of New-Hampshire is 32,595.

ECCLESIASTICAL.

A TABLE, showing the names of Clergymen, of different denominations, who are settled over or have charge of societies in the different towns in New-Hampshire.

Where the same name occurs in two towns, it may be understood the minister officiates in both places.

Abbreviations used to designate the different Denominations.—C. T., Congregational Trinitarian; Ut., Unitarian; Pr., Presbyterian; E., Episcopalian; C. B., Calvinist Baptist; F. B., Freewill Baptist; Ch., Christians; M., Methodist; Uv., Universalist; R. C., Roman Catholic; Swed., Swedenborgians; S. A., Second Advents; Chr. G., Church of God. Those printed in italics are ordained ministers, but without charge of any particular church.

NOTE.—In order to facilitate and insure more correctness of the name and location of ministers in the State of New-Hampshire for the Register, the compiler would earnestly request a clergyman of each town or city, or one of each denomination, to give a list of the names, and hand to the care of their Representative to the Legislature, in June, annually, directed to the compiler at Concord.

RAILROADS IN NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

Railroad Commissioners.

JEREMY O. NUTE, Farmington.
ARCHIBALD H. DUNLAP, Nashua.
MERRILL C. FORREST, Berlin.

WILLIS H. ESTY, Dover, Commissioner of Boston & Maine Railroad.

JOHN PRESTON, New-Ipswich, Commissioner for Peterborough and Shirley Railroad.

The increased number of pages devoted to statistics made it necessary to omit the Railroad Corporations for the present year; the officers of the several Roads remaining nearly all the same—Concord & Portsmouth is about the only exception.

OBITUARY NOTICES.

SAMUEL A. KIMBALL, Esq., of Concord, deceased October 14, 1858, aged 76 years. Mr. Kimball was a native of Concord. He graduated at Dartmouth College, 1806, and soon after entered upon a course of study for the practice of law, and was admitted to the practice. He was chosen Clerk to the State Senate for the years 1813, 1814 and 1815.

SAMUEL FLETCHER, Esq., of Concord, October 28, 1858, aged 73 years. Mr. Fletcher was born at Plymouth. He graduated at Dartmouth College in 1810, and soon after commenced a course of study for the practice of law, with the Hon. Samuel Green—was admitted to the practice, and opened an office in Concord. He was chosen one of the Representatives from Concord for the years 1823 and 1825, and was one of the Trustees to Dartmouth College from 1835 to the time of his death.

HON. DANIEL HOIT, of Sandwich, August 11, 1859, aged 81 years. Mr. Hoit represented his town in the Legislature several consecutive years, beginning with 1811, and again in 1830, making nine years; also in the Senate four years, and in the Council two years, 1825 and 1826. He was an active business man.

IRA FOLSOM, Esq., of Gilford, August, 1859, aged 36 years. Mr. Folsom was born in Gilford; graduated at Dartmouth College in 1848; he studied law with C. H. Butters, Esq., of Pittsfield, was admitted to practice and opened an office at Gilford.

HON. JONATHAN HARVEY, of Sutton, August 23, 1859, aged 79 years. Mr. Harvey represented his town in the Legislature 1813, '14, '15; was in the Senate seven years, six of which he was President; also was in the Council 1823 and 1824. He was Representative in Congress six years.

Gen. JOSEPH LOW, of Concord, August 28, 1859, aged 69 years. Mr. Low was a native of Amherst, and became a resident in Concord about the year 1814. He entered the Army as a Lieutenant, in the war of 1812, with England, but soon after was appointed Paymaster. Mr. Low was Adjutant General in New-Hampshire from 1822 to 1840, and was the first mayor for the city of Concord, and served for the years 1853 and 1854. He was a man of great energy of character and business capacity, a good neighbor, a good citizen, and possessed of an open and liberal hand to the poor.

Rev. ENOS GEORGE, of Barnstead, October 20, 1859, aged 78 years. Mr. George was born at South-Hampton, and obtained his education at Atkinson Academy; was ordained over the Congregational church at Barnstead at the age of 23, and remained its minister until his death, fifty-seven years. Mr. George taught school for the first twenty-five years, in different districts in his own town, and was Town-Clerk forty-five years. During this period he kept the books of the town with neatness, order and correctness.
